

Updates to the Canadian Guidelines on Sexually Transmitted Infections

FOR FUTURE
UPDATES
FILL IN AND FAX NOW

The Canadian Guidelines on Sexually Transmitted Infections, a resource for health professionals, is a living document that requires regular updates. To facilitate the dissemination of these updates we are creating a "mailing" list of Guideline users so that we can provide notifications when updates are made. Providing your professional designation/training, area(s) of expertise/practice and populations you serve will further inform guideline updates and will expedite their dissemination.

We invite you to contribute to this initiative by either :

- filling in the information below and faxing it to us at 613-957-0381

OR

- sending an email to SH_STI@phac-aspc.gc.ca, in order to receive an electronic form which you can complete and email back to us

The information you provide will be managed and safely stored by the Community Acquired Infections Division, Public Health Agency of Canada. Please remember to notify us of any change to your e-mail address. The most current version, as well as any updates, of the Canadian Guidelines on Sexually Transmitted Infections can be accessed on the PHAC website at www.publichealth.gc.ca/sti

We thank you for your time.
